

Participant Instruction Sheet for AI Testing of Good Dad AI

Name of department: Computer and Information Sciences

Title of the study: AI for Games: Being A Good Dad

During the Study.

- I will introduce you to the game and how to play.
- You will play a game against a randomly selected AI opponent.
- You will then answer some questions about your experience of the opponent.
- You will then play a second game against a different randomly selected agent.
- Again, you will be asked some questions about your experience of the opponent.
- You will then be asked to compare the two opponents and rank them against each other based on some criteria.
- The study will then be finished.
